Dear Sir/Madam,

I don't understand how the both of you look at yourself in the mirror?

To ignore the science which the agency was based on to support the ramblings of the President who is trying to support his nonsense (lies) and basically his fragile ego.

You have discredited your agency and the belief that millions of people had in NOAA as being a non-partisan and non-political.

I'm very sure from this moment going forward, there will be large swathes of the general public will doubt NOAA's agenda to serve the public through FACT based information or is it serve the fragile ego of the President.

This is just absolutely outrageous.

If either of you had any shred of conscience left, you would resign in protest but we all know neither of you will resign as neither of you have a conscience left (soul) and only to serve the fragile President.
